FACULTY	138-139
ADVERTISEMENTS	152-153
SENIOR INDEX	164-165

The purpose of this Scimitar is to envelop the year of 1959-60 and unfold all of its events, experiences and memories each time it is reviewed. For those who were sophomores and juniors, it will be a yearbook to remind you of one of your three years at Lorain High. For those of us who were seniors, it will be a keepsake of what we consider the most important year of our public education — our senior year. The 1960 Scimitar is an attempt to capture and record the character, feelings and activities of the student body, especially of the graduating seniors.

F. N. A. PROMOTES NURSING

The Future Nurses of America was organized in February of 1956 for girls interested in nursing as a career. Mrs. Audra Smith is the sponsor and advisor to about 200 girls. Some of the Club's activities include visiting St. Joseph's Hospital, entertaining guest speakers in the medical field, and working on welfare projects, but the most popular events are the Mother-and-Daughter Tea and the annual Christmas Banquet.

The activities of Junior Y-Teens this year are illustrative of the service at the club to the school and community. In addition to making their aid available at the concession stands at Lorain High School Sporting events they annually sponsor the Y-Teens dance. The girls make toys, favors, and amusements for the underprivileged and hospitalized. They sponsor a charity basket. To secure funds they hold their own bake sale.

SOPHOMORE Y-TEENS SERVE THE SCHOOL.

The Lorain High School Y-Teen group, a girls' club organized to serve the school and the community, is a group of fully planned and supervised activities throughout the school year. They prove that teenagers can be helpful people, too. Members of society. Sophomore Y-Teens provide an introduction to the school and community from a different point of view.

A black and white photograph of a large group of students, likely a yearbook class, posing in three rows. The students are dressed in formal attire typical of the mid-20th century. The group is composed of approximately 30 individuals, with the front row seated and the back two rows standing. The setting appears to be an indoor space with a plain background.

COUNCIL LINKS FACULTY TO STUDENTS.

Lorain High School Student Council is the elected representative body of Lorain High School students and serves the purpose of providing a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body. Every two weeks the councilmen, one from each home room, meet to discuss the betterment of Lorain High School by developing responsibility, initiative, fellowship, and school spirit among the students, promoting worthwhile citizenship training, providing for student self-expression, and setting up for the student a working model of the government which we live under.

RADIO CLUB STUDIES ELECTRONICS

Authorities agree that electronics is the coming field. The recent advance made in cyrogenics foreshadow major breakthroughs which will ultimately affect every phase of our life. One has only to look at how the science of electronics has already changed our environment to realize the truth of this. The Radio Club provides the student with the opportunity to familiarize himself with this fascinating line of work

G. A. A. SPURS SPORTS

The Girls' Athletic Association is composed of all girls who have participated to a sufficient extent in intramural sports. Girls play volleyball, ping-pong, and badminton after school, securing points depending upon the time they spend. Those accumulating 250 or more points are invited to join G.A.A.

G.A.A. Officers, Mickey Krase — president, Pat Fush — secretary, Carol Deehr — treasurer, and Chris Kingsley — vice-president seem to have been caught discussing the picture.

The tremendous scope of the Scimitar, attempting to record the thoughts and the feelings of 2,000 people for three years of their lives, is indicative of the futility of our task. The work of shifting through hundreds of photographs and records of events over the school year, selecting those which will truly represent the spirit of life at Lorain High School, and arranging these in a presentable manner is Herculean. If we have managed to brighten the memories of only a few people many years from now as they look back on this period of their lives, we shall feel that our small effort has not been in vain.

The Hi-Standard brings you the latest information on the school and the community. It is a new way to keep you up to date on the news, sports, and other things that are going on.

The next issue of the Hi-Standard comes out today. This is an announcement always greeted with interest by the student body, for the Hi-Standard is the official organ of Lorain High. Put together by the advanced journalism class in the same manner as professional newspapers, its basic aim is supplying students with recent significant information in a helpful and interesting manner.

MU ALPHA THETA ADVANCES THE FRONTIERS OF MATH.

in January, 260 teachers in preparation at the Aspen Teacher Institute are studying school mathematics. It was organized to promote interest in mathematics and to bring advanced theory and materials to pre-service teachers. Since its membership is restricted to the latter group, the programs focus on advanced topics and materials. Geometry and trigonometry is being explored as well as new and unusual number systems, etc.

THE CHESS CLUB IS REORGANIZED

Chess is what is known as a game of complete information. That is, there is no chance, no probability, no information that is withheld from either player at any time. Both know exactly what the situation is, and both hold their fate entirely in their own hands. For this reason it has been stated that in chess there is no luck: the better player will always win the game. The mental training afforded the student of this game is tremendous — learning to handle a complexity of units scattered over a wide front, each with its own peculiarities and vulnerabilities. He who does not call upon all his powers of insight, logic, foresight, and care is soon doomed on the chess board.

I. R. C. STRENGTHENS NEIGHBORLY BONDS.

In a world constantly shrinking at an ever-increasing rate, due to technological advance, it becomes more important to provide a sound basis of understanding among the peoples of all nations of the earth. The International Relations Club was created at Lorain High to fulfill this need. Through a wide program of speakers having made trips abroad, research projects, and particularly foreign-exchange students the club puts the relationships of every student with our neighbors in other parts of the world on a personal basis.

EXPERT DEBATERS MAKE UP FORENSIC CLUB

Forensic Debate: Language; Jam Session; Music. A debate is one of the most spontaneous bursts of expression of the English language. It is argument for its own sake — for the pleasure and relish of the sport itself. This is not to say that it is infantile or that nothing lasting comes of it; on the contrary, it is a high form of art only properly appreciated by those steeped in the way of letters. The beauty of form and classification and mode of argument which pass unnoticed to most in the excitement reveal themselves to the aesthetic listener.

The dignified officers of the Forensic Club: Rita Berkowitz, Sepsenwei and Ran Brown

The A Cappella Choir is the foremost vocal group in the Lorain Public School System. The spirit of the group is something that will never be forgotten by anyone who was a member. Everyone joins in to work with and for everyone else to their mutual benefit. Invitation to join is highly selective, and the standards held by the choir are set and maintained at a professional level at all times. The secret of its success is contained in the following quotation: 'The enemy of the best is not the worst, but the good

SHOWBOAT

Every year the showboat, Cotton Blossom, stops at a small town in the South. The showboat is run by Captain Andy Hawks and he in turn is run by his wife, Parthy. Captain Hawks is faced with the problem of finding a leading man and woman for his show since Sinner Baker and Julie Dizer are asked to leave the showboat because Julie is a mulatto. He finds for his leading man a river boat gambler whose name is Gaylord Ravenal and for his leading lady he uses his eighteen year old daughter, Magnolia. They fall in love and are married. Everything is well until Gaylord's luck runs out and she is forced to go back to singing for a career. Twenty years later the two meet again on the showboat.

 3. Barbare Meek and Carolyn Poeramo put the final touches on Carol Ann Meek's make-up.
 4. Karen Gilbert applies the make-up on one of the stars, Ralph Reed.
 5. Ralph Reed and Carol Ann Meek sing a duet on the dock next to the Showboat.
 6. In the last scene the entire chorus assembles on stage where the hero and heroine are reunited.

THE CADET BAND

The cadet band provides a fund of available players from which the concert band may draw as openings occur. Students in cadet band are to get the principles of marching and gain experience in large ensemble technique which they will find valuable as they move into the more rigid standards of concert band.

Two of the officers for the Cadet Band are Fred and Henry Jones.

A black and white photograph of a large group of students and faculty members, likely the Class of 1925, posing in front of a building. The group is arranged in several rows, with some individuals standing and others possibly seated or kneeling in the front. They are dressed in formal attire typical of the early 20th century. The background shows a building with a prominent entrance and windows.

JANUARY 1961

A large group photograph of the 1924-25 football team. The team is posed in four rows. The front row consists of players kneeling or sitting on the ground. The second and third rows are standing players. The back row consists of standing coaches or staff members. The players are wearing dark jerseys with light-colored numbers and light-colored pants. The coaches are wearing suits. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

Contributing to a successful season were assistant coaches Jim Dahanous, Angelo Bangas and Tony Misko

Cheering the JV basketball and football teams are cheerleaders Marge Kordeleski, Barb McGuire, Sue Romoser and Mary Ann Denocola

at a long position of the stadium
 are cheerleaders Penny Knapp, Anna
 Goss, Bev Kitting, Anna, Judy
 Straka and Barb Wooten. They lead all the cheers during football games and lead the Pep Club during basketball session. Their pep spirit and the confidence have made them one of the top groups of cheerleaders L.H.S. has had.

Bev Kitting leads that famous line. Remember its all their spirit, all of the cheers.

Expecting that high level
 on the home high school
 another cheerleader Penny

To Bonnie,
next 3 years we have as
much fun as this past one.
You've been a wonderful friend with a swell personality. Remember our last 2 "parties" and our walks for ice cream. We had more fun than ever — let's keep it up. Good luck with all those days. A friend forever,
Dianne
